The Sledgehammer Fund is just one of the ways Prostate Cancer UK is fighting prostate cancer to help more men survive and enjoy a better quality of life. Prostate Cancer UK, the UK’s leading men’s health charity, is now looking to appoint a new Chair to succeed Professor Paul Forster, who is stepping down after seven years. During his time the organisation has more than quadrupled its income, in part through its status as the UK partner of the Movember Foundation.

The new Chair will play a critical role in continuing an ambitious growth strategy to ensure that the issue of prostate cancer is properly recognised and resourced to match the fact that it is expected to be the most common cancer in the UK within the next twenty years. They will be expected to work closely with the Chief Executive, Owen Sharp, in managing key relationships and to ensure the Board’s cohesiveness, effectiveness and contribution in achieving its objectives.

The Chair will be someone who brings significant leadership experience and excellent strategic skills to shape the on-going work of the organisation. The Board meets four times each year in London and time commitment for the Chair is likely to be around two days per month. The position of Chair is voluntary, but reasonable expenses will be reimbursed by the Charity.

For further information, including the role description and job specification, and details on how to apply, please download the Appointment Details at www.perrettlaver.com/candidates quoting reference number 1248.

The closing date for applications is noon (GMT) on Tuesday 2nd April 2013.
